Beverly and I are finding that it sure has gotten busy since we have moved into the riding season and the various chapters are having there poker runs, picnic and various other functions. We wandered down to Newport News, for the Chapter C meeting to see who would capture the Virginia District Traveling Plaque. Although there was quite a crowd, none of the visiting chapters could capture the plaque. It all worked out for the best, as Chapter C now had the plaque available for their Spring Thaw Poker Run on the 17th of April. We were planning on traveling down to Newport News on Friday the 16th however Beverly had to work, so we headed south on Saturday morning, bright and early (UGH, I do hate bright and early). We arrived at the park early and found that Ron Hardisty had beaten us there (he came down the night before and stayed over at a local establishment). Shortly thereafter Ray Hitt and Kathy O'Neal showed up as well as our daughter (Christine) and son in law (Randy) with grand children (Zachary and Samantha). Over all we had a great time. Chapter Z captured the Traveling Plaque, even though they were not aware that it was at the Spring Thaw.

We spent the night at our daughter's place in Chesapeake and the next morning we all headed out to Chapter L's After Tax Day Poker Run. It was a beautiful day for a poker run, sunny and warm. I asked Greg and Debbie Blystone, Chapter Directors for Chapter L, who they bribed to have such a beautiful day. Needles to say they were not telling. Beverly and I watched the grand children while Randy and Christine went on the poker run. The play area they had at the park was something to behold. There were all sorts of swings, slides, climbing bars, etc. They even had a roller blade/skate board course. Needless to say we all had a great time and now my son in law is talking about trading in his Midnight Star for a Gold Wing.

The day after our Chapter Meeting, the 21st of April, Beverly and I made our way up to Culpeper to visit with Chapter Z at their Chapter Meeting (April is one of the few months that the Chapter Z meeting doesn't fall on the same day as our staff meeting). We came up short again, with the Traveling Plaque. Ken and Georgia Siadak (Chapter Directors for Chapter W, Chester) had brought a group of Chapter W members fully intending to beat out any other chapters planning on obtaining the plaque. Oh well, that leaves something to do on another day.

See you all down the road,

Jim and Beverly Travis

As those who have attended LAM events of late will know, there is one aspect of proper use of a motorcycle which LAM does not teach. This is that basic task: parking the beast!

Many of us firmly believe that, as with the face of a Heidelberg student, it is unmanly for a motorcycle to lack a few scars. However, many riders seem to wish to keep their fairings unscratched, their mirrors unbent and their footpegs straight. A grasp of the basics of parking your motorcycle will aid you considerably in this aim.

No rule is absolute, but most of the following rules apply most of the time. For convenience, it is assumed that small people ride smaller bikes and big people ride bigger bikes: so, whatever your size, your bike will be pretty big in comparison to your body weight. (Fat guts on mopeds are ignored). Park with your rear wheel to the curb. Most roads camber; that is, they slope down to the gutter. Also, most motorcycles have only forward gears, so the engine can only help you pull away if you are facing in towards the center of the road. Your tires never sink into even the softest of ground, but metal stands can do so. Park on the sidestand. If you have the slightest worry about the surface (mud, soft tarmac, etc) you can put a 'foot' (plastic or metal plate, usually attached to a line for easy retrieval, and stored in a pocket on your bike when not in use), flat rock, wood or the ubiquitous flattened beer can (I mean "soft drink can", officer) under the side stand in such a case. It's much harder to chock up both legs of a centerstand. Also, on the sidestand you are "three point stable" like a tripod, the center stand only gives you "two point stability". And it's far easier to "fine tune" the position of a bike on the sidestand than it is to take it off the center stand and start again. Similarly, always use the sidestand and a suitable 'foot' under the end of it when on camping trips. Even if the ground is rock hard when you park, rain or dew may soften it enough for the sidestand to dig in. And position the bike so that, if the stand sinks in despite your precautions, your tent with you in it will not be beneath the wreckage!

Park at between 90 and 45 degrees to the flow of traffic (depending how wide the road is).

Parking parallel to the flow of traffic makes the 'bike far less visible to other road users, without reducing the actual width all that much. If you can't park safely at 45 degrees, you probably shouldn't park there at all. Don't leave the bike parked with the engine running. If the road is so steep that you need to leave it in gear to stop it rolling, it is probably not the right place to leave it. (Remember; it is perfectly possible for an engine to "creep" past compression - so leaving it in gear does NOT make a good parking brake) If you have to park on a hill; park at 45 degrees to the road, with the rear tire downhill of the front and against the curb. And (unless you like the smell of ABS cement) use the sidestand.

Think before you park! Look at the ground (for the aforementioned mud or soft tarmac) and if you see a nail, don't park on it! If you see a "No Parking" sign or marking, consider parking elsewhere. If you see 'Brixton confetti' (broken car window) consider parking elsewhere. If you see half a U-Lock and the innards of a Yamaha ignition switch, do park elsewhere!

If you have a choice of parking spaces (e.g.: the length of a 'bike bay), you should park: where the road is widest; furthest from any corner or junction; not under a tree; under a street lamp; next to a wider vehicle but not behind a vehicle that may have difficulty reversing and where the 'bike is easily seen (preferably by yourself or members of your household).

Try to leave a considerate space for other road users ('cause they'll only try to move the bike if you don't). Never park in the middle of a gap that is "one and a half" cars long: it's rude and selfish. However, you should park in the middle of a gap that is only one car long, to indicate to car drivers that they shouldn't try to squeeze in.

If you possibly can, whenever you do have to move the bike under your own steam, sit astride it. If you are walking alongside a bike and have to turn or brake it sharply, it can easily fall away from you. As the bulk of the bike itself prevents you placing your feet to brace yourself, this quickly leads to the embarrassing position of you lying on top of the bike while a passing mongrel throws a bucket of water over you. When you have to move a bike under muscle power, don't let the exertion make you forget your Roadcraft. In large fleets, up to 80% of accidents happen while parking. People relax and forget to concentrate at the end of a trip. Don't forget to check for other moving vehicles before pushing your bike across the road!

Ray Hitt & Kathy O'Neal

Finally riding season is here. Ray is leaving for Myrtle Beach for Bike Week on May 10. The first week in June he heads to New York for Americade. The middle of June we both (finally me too) head down to Knoxville, Tenn for Honda Hoot and then off to Texas for Wing Ding. When we return in mid July, we don't know where we will be heading. Ray is talking about going to Maine for a Lobster Festival, again without me. Looks like he will be doing a lot of biking without me. Sometime this busy summer, we will try to get to the other chapter events. Don't forget our own Tour De Burg on June 12. This will be the first time in a few years that we will be able to be there and are looking forward to it. Until then keep riding those "endless roads".

St. Francis of Assisi
Service Dog
Foundation Raffle

Located in Roanoke, Virginia, the St. Francis of Assisi Service Dog Foundation raises, trains, and places service dogs. Its purpose is to encourage people with disabilities to become more self-sufficient through partnerships with service dogs. It further promotes the use and acceptance of service dogs through public and professional education. GWRRA Virginia District will support St. Francis of Assisi at Rally in the Valley 2004. We are blessed with very talented people in each of our chapters-people who make everything from quilts to wooden shelves and stained glass. We are asking each chapter to donate one item for a minimum of 24 items. Some chapters are donating more than one item. Pictures of donated items will be displayed on the Virginia District web site. Chapters will receive 20 raffle tickets, which they will sell for $10 each. Proceeds from the sale of these tickets will be donated to St. Francis of Assisi Service Dog Foundation. We have already received three of the prizes for the raffle – one from Chapter K in Roanoke and two donated by the Virginia District Staff. We would appreciate hearing from the other chapters about their plans for donations so that we can get a list posted on the District web site prior to sending the raffle tickets out to the chapters. Please contact Bobbie Jo Harrison or Lynette Stewart to let us know what your chapter plans! If you need more information on St. Francis of Assisi, please visit their web site at: <http://www.saintfrancisdogs.org/>.

RALLY IN THE VALLEY FUN!!

Last year, we held our first-ever Scavenger Hunt with the merchants of Salem. They want us back!! Not only is this event a whole lot of fun – it is also a great Public Relations tool for GWRRA Virginia. The merchants get to see motorcyclists who enjoy shopping and visiting their stores and we get to see their merchandise – some of which we probably need to purchase because we can't live without! Join us this year on our hunt. The winner of the Hunt will be awarded a $100 prize at RITV closing ceremonies. Hunters can pick up their registration packets on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 7th. The Scavenger Hunt will end at 3 pm on Sat Oct. 9th.

Co-Riders Corner

This is for everyone:

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY TO THE MEANEST MOTHER IN THE WORLD

I have the meanest mother in the world! While other kids ate candy for breakfast, I had to have cereal, eggs, or toast. When other kids had cake and candy for lunch, I had to eat a sandwich, and as you can guess, my supper was different from the other kids too! But, at least I was not alone in my suffering. My two brothers had the same mean mother as I did.

My mother insisted upon knowing where us kids were at all times. You'd thin we were convicts in a prison. She had to know who our friends were, and what we were doing. She insisted if we said we would be gone an hour, that we be home in one hour or less and not one hour and one minute. I am really ashamed to admit it, but she actually punished us, each time we did as we pleased. Can you imaging someone actually punishing a child, just because we disobeyed. Now you can see how mean she really was.

The worst is yet to come. We had to be in bed by nine each night and up early the next morning. We couldn't sleep till noon like our friends. So while they slept my mother actually had the nerve to break the child labor law. She had us work, we had to wash dishes, make beds, learn to cook and all sorts of cruel things. I believe she lay awake nights, thinking up mean things to do to us. She always insisted upon us telling the truth and nothing but the truth.

By the time we were teenagers, she was much worse and our lives became even more unbearable. No one tooting the horn of a car in front of the house for us. She would embarrass us to no end by making our dates and friends come to the door to get us. I forgot to mention, while my friends were dating at the mature ages of 12 and 13, old-fashioned mother refused to let us date until the age of 15 and 18. Fifteen, that is if you only dated to school functions and that only came twice a year!

My mother was a complete failure as a mother. None of us has ever been arrested!

Each of my brothers served their time in the service of his country, and whom do we have to blame for the terrible way we turned out??? You are right, our mean mother! Look at all the things we missed. We have never been in jail, never used dope, never been violent, or a million and one other things that our friends did. She forced us to grow into God fearing, educated, honest adults.

Using this background, I will stand a little taller and be filled with pride, because you see, I thank God He gave me the MEANEST MOTHER IN THE WORLD!!

March Potluck

If you missed the potluck this month, then you - really missed it! Thirty something did enjoy the delicious food and wonderful fellowship! We would like to thank everyone for coming, enjoying and sharing. For us, it was a wonderful way to enjoy our anniversary with friends and there were also a few birthdays this month, therefore, there was no lacking in the desserts. Potlucks are a terrific excuse to get together, eat and just - plain ole visit! Everyone is so busy, whereas the dinner gives a chance to just stop and say: "how are you!", spend a little time together, while not reeling rushed, totally relaxing. We look forward to the next potluck! Hope to see you there!

Thanks,
Mike & Carol

Rally in the Valley Rooms

As you all know RITV is Oct. 7,8, and 9th. I have signed a contract with Comfort Inn Suites for thirty rooms for those days. This hotel is located about two miles from the Civic Center. These rooms are mostly the suites. They have two double beds, wet bar, microwave and small frig. You also have a separate sitting room with a couch (some make a bed), television, coffee pot and etc. This is a fairly new and very pretty hotel. All rooms are entered from the inside and there are elevators to all the floors. They have a hot breakfast on Fridays and the rest of the time it is the continental type meal. You have a large dining area off the lobby and a nice deck off the lobby with chairs. All rooms are $69. The contract is in my name and all the rooms need to stay that way so nothing will be messed up with the reservations. If you would like a room please fill the form out below and see that Jennifer or I get it. Any cancellations need to be made to me by Sept. 18 or there will be a one-night room charge that will be your responsibility. I need to have all forms back to me by Aug 1 so that I can get things set up and at that time I will open it up to any other chapter that might need a room. Any questions please give me a call at 540-69-7273 or e-mail me at mwcdeb@aol.com. Thanks and hope to se everyone at RITV.

The young mother set her foot on the path of life. "Is this the long way?" she asked. And the guide said "Yes, and the way is hard. And you will be old before you reach the end of it. But the end will be better than the beginning. But the young mother was happy, and she would not believe that anything could be better than these years.

So she played with her children, she fed them and bathed them, and taught them how to tie their shoes and ride a bike and reminded them to feed the dog, and do their homework and brush their teeth.

The sun shone on them, and the young Mother cried, "Nothing will ever be lovelier than this."

Then the nights came, and the storms, and the path was sometimes dark, and the children shook with fear and cold, and the mother drew them close and covered them with her arms, and the children said, "Mother, we are not afraid, for you are near, and no harm can come."

And the morning came, and there was a hill ahead, and the children climbed and grew weary, and the mother was weary. But at all times she said to the children, "A little patience and we are there."

So the children climbed, and as they climbed they learned to weather the storms. And with this, she gave them strength to face the world.

Year after year, she showed them compassion, understanding, hope, but most of all unconditional love. And when they reached the top they said, "Mother, we would not have done it without you."

The days went on, and the weeks and the months and the years, and the mother grew old and she became little and bent. But her children were tall and strong, and walked with courage.

And the mother, when she lay down at night, looked up at the stars and said, "This is a better day than the last, for my children have learned so much and are now passing these traits on to their children."

And when the way became rough for her, they lifted her, and gave her their strength, just as she had given them hers. One day they came to a hill, and beyond the hill, they could see a shining road and golden gates flung wide.

And mother said: "I have reached the end of my journey. And now I know the end is better than the beginning, for my children can walk with dignity and pride, with their heads held high, and so can their children after them."

And the children said, " You will always walk with us, Mother, even when you have gone through the gates." And they stood and watched her as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her.

And they said: "We cannot see her, but she is with us still. A Mother like ours is more than a memory. She is a living presence."

Your Mother is always with you. She's the whisper of the leaves as you walk down the street, she's the smell of certain foods you remember, flowers you pick and perfume that she wore, she's the cool hand on your brow when you're not feeling well, she's your breath in the air on a cold winter's day.

She is the sound of the rain that lulls you to sleep, the colors of a rainbow, she is Christmas morning.

Your Mother lives inside your laughter. And she's crystallized in every tear drop. A mother shows every emotion.....happiness, sadness, fear, jealousy, love, hate, anger, helplessness, excitement, joy, sorrow..... and all the while, hoping and praying you will only know the good feelings in life.

She's the place you came from, your first home, and she's the map you follow with every step you take.

She's your first love, your first friend, even your first enemy, but nothing on earth can separate you. Not time, not space.....not even death!

PASS THIS ON TO ALL THE MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS AND SONS YOU KNOW.
